Dear Friends:

If you’re like me, you start thinking about the holidays in September. Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas—each holiday allows us to embrace the spirit of the season and take pleasure in family traditions. One tradition I especially enjoy is stamping cards and tags with my family.

I also cherish the fact that my children are passing to their children the little traditions my husband and I started years ago. I take great pleasure in seeing my grandchildren dress up in costumes for Halloween. This year, some of my grandchildren will experience their first Christmas. Watching their joy makes the holiday season all the more magical.

I hope you experience the magic this year. Have a wonderful holiday season!
